

Heal

words and music by Charles Loach, Sven-Erik Seaholm & David Ybarra

In the deepest blue before the sunrise
You're still lying wide awake
A smile no longer hides
The pain within your eyes
You've had all that you can take

Touch my hand now I will heal you
A moment's doubt and life can slip through Another time and place
A different rhyme and face
I could give you what you need

I can heal you

Take a moment for reflection
Think of all the love you lost
Passions tip the scales
In favor of it all
But it is it worth what it will cost? No...

(Chorus)

I can heal you
I can heal you

Just living day to day
Can be so very hard
But isn't that the way it's supposed to be?

Another broken heart condition
One more story's bitter end
And at your feet is now
What once was in your veins
Didn't you know you had a friend?

(Chorus)
