

Sister Mary Jane, Revisited

*words & music by

Something is in the air tonight
Can't bear to look, but I just might You're burning bright
Talk to me baby

Sister Mary Jane
I am afraid
Am I holding you too tight?
I need you tonight
Alright...okay

Smooth as the skin of a nectarine
Kindness like I've never seen
In a world so mean
Comfort me, baby

Sister Mary Jane
I am afraid
Am I holding you too tight?
I need you today
Okay...alright

And ever since the day I met you
Mixed emotions had me blind
Now I don't see a way to get you
Off my mind

Sister Mary Jane
I am afraid
Am I holding you too tight?
I'm kneeling to pray

Sister Mary Jane
Sister Mary Jane
Sister Mary Jane
Sister Mary's changed
