

STOP TALKING

words & music by Sven-Erik Seaholm

Why must you feel the need
To verbalize at such extremes?
You could say more and never say a word
Why waste the oxygen?
Just take a deep breath now & then
Give someone else a moment be heard

It's not like I'm asking all that much
Just a contingency to touch
It's not like a favor
No, it's more like a gift

Stop talking
Stop talking
Stop talking
Shut up and listen

Now your attention's drawn
To my direction I am on What some might understate to call the spot
But I have given far too much
Of what I had too little of
For too long now to fail to take that shot

Maybe it's something in your eyes
Maybe it's only in my mind
It strikes like a match stick
And it makes me ignite

(Chorus)

And if I'm not a strong persuader
Maybe you'll get this later
But how will you ever know
If you won't hear me now?

(Chorus)
